The 19th Annual British Commonwealth and Postcolonial Studies Conference brings together scholars, students, and artists from the national and international community. We focus on the course and consequences of British colonization--in Africa, the Middle East, Ireland, the Far East, and elsewhere--in the arts and sciences, on history, on ecology, and so on. Roughly 150 internationally reknowned and beginning academics and independent scholars attend the two-day event in Savannah, sponsored by the Georgia Southern University Department of Literature and Philosophy.

Exhibitors will be set up in the lobby of the Coastal Georgia Center. All conference participants will be passing by the exhibit tables during registration, breaks, keynote luncheon and changes of sessions.
